

Outright Repeal of Neutrality Act Not Administration Plan

Vital Revisions Wish of Leaders in U. S. De- fense Efforts

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Administration lieutenants in congress were reported today to have rejected a proposal for outright repeal of the neutrality act and to be ready to work instead for legislation making vital revisions.

The repeal proposal was introduced yesterday by Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), a consistent administration supporter. McKellar, who told the senate that the neutrality law established a policy which "no great nation like ours can indulge in," said today he had acted entirely on his own responsibility. He added he did not know whether the administration would approve complete repeal of the neutrality law.

One well-advised leader told reporters that McKellar's measure was not acceptable to the administration. He said the legislation recommended by President Roosevelt next week probably would follow the lines indicated Wednesday by Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee.

Amendments Proposed
Connally suggested that the neutrality law be amended to permit the arming of American ships and to allow them to enter presently forbidden belligerent ports and combat zones.

The Texas senators declared that some provisions of the neutrality law—such as that granting the government control over munitions exports—should be retained.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), told reporters that he favored either complete repeal or substantial modification of the neutrality law. It generally was assumed that Roosevelt would discuss the entire question of neutrality repeal or revision with his congressional leaders next Monday and would weigh well their advice on what legislation to recommend.

On the basis of informal polls, the congressional group was expected to assure the chief executive that both houses would grant safe majorities to legislation lifting present restrictions against the arming of merchant ships and against travel in designated belligerent areas.

300 Names Added to Administration Blacklisted Firms

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The economic defense board headed by Vice President Wallace further centralized control of economic warfare and kindred defense measures today by taking over the issuance of all export licenses in the $4,000,000,000-a-year foreign trade of the United States.

In line with President Roosevelt's order of Sept. 15 to "intensify the policy of preventing shipments to axis-dominated countries," the economic defense board began absorption of the state department's division of controls, which heretofore has collaborated with the export control administration in regulating exports and issuance of export licenses.

Add to Blacklist
Wallace's super-defense board already has taken over the previously independent and army-directed export control administration with the objective of integrating its functions into the broader work of the board.

At the same time the economic defense organization issued a supplementary "black list" containing the names of 300 persons and firms in the other American republics to whom no more shipments of American goods will be permitted.

The 300 "black listed" firms have been added to the original "proclaimed list of certain blocked nationals" which contained more than 1,800 individuals and firms in Latin American countries. The names of 65 firms on the original list were deleted yesterday because "satisfactory corrective action" had been taken.

Child's Body Apparently Mutilated by Propeller

Metropolis, Ill., Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Ohio river today gave up the body of one of the two persons drowned in a fishing boat mishap near Joppa Wednesday.

The trunk and head of three-year-old Harry Lee Storey was recovered from the river and Coroner W. P. Baynes said the child's body apparently had been mutilated by a steamboat propeller.

Approximately 200 persons were dragging the river today in an attempt to recover the body of the child's father, Thomas Storey, Joppa fisherman.

Veteran

Attorney C. B. Chapman of Ottawa, one of the oldest practicing attorneys in Illinois, appeared before Judge George C. Dixon in Lee county Circuit court in the settlement of an estate. When the case was completed, the 85-year-old attorney informed Judge Dixon that he had been personally acquainted with John Dixon, grandfather of the Lee county jurist, and founder of the city of Dixon, as well as many of the former leading members of the legal profession in this county. Attorney Chapman was admitted to the practice of law in Illinois in 1880 and is still very active in his profession, despite his advanced years.

Cruelty Basis of Charges, Counter- Charges in Court

Principals in a contested divorce action hurled charges and denials at each other in a hearing which was being conducted before Judge George C. Dixon in Lee county Circuit court today. Frank Stevens, of near West Brooklyn, charged cruelty in his bill for divorce from Lena Stevens, who is employed at the fashionable Wilmette Country club near Chicago. Attorney Edward Sullivan appeared for Stevens while Mrs. Stevens, who had filed a counter claim in the proceeding, was represented by Attorney Robert Besse of Sterling. The hearing today was a continuation of the action, previously started.

Upon cross examination today, Stevens repeated many accusations against his wife in support of his claim of cruelty. The plaintiff, who resides on a farm four miles southwest of West Brooklyn, charged that on Oct. 12, 1932, his wife struck him across the face with a piece of glass, inflicting a wound which required stitches to close. About June 1, 1937, near West Brooklyn, she threatened him with a nickel-plated 32 caliber revolver when she asked to be taken to Chicago, and when disarmed by one of several witnesses to the attack, grabbed a hand mirror from a table and struck the individual who wrested the weapon from her, Stevens contended.

Served 42 Days in Jail
On March 10, 1939, in their apartment in Chicago, Stevens testified, that his wife became enraged when he came home late after working overtime, and attacked him with a carving knife, inflicting a gash on the left hand and severing an artery. After this attack, he told the court, she left home and returned four days later with a policeman, who arrested Stevens, who was then locked up and served 42 days in jail.

Mrs. Stevens, on the witness stand in support of her counterclaim charging her husband with cruelty, denied the alleged attacks enumerated in his petition. She wept when she denied having even handled a revolver, yielding a hand mirror or being disarmed at a home near West Brooklyn as claimed by her husband. She testified that Stevens sought her several times in Chicago and on one occasion that he came to her apartment he took a bath and, at his request, she trimmed his toe nails.

Eureka Celebrating Its Pumpkin Festival

Eureka, Ill., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Reminding other communities that Halloween is only a month away, Eureka renewed its claim today to the title of "pumpkin center of the world."

Corn shocks and raw material for jack-o'-lanterns lined Eureka streets for its annual pumpkin festival, whose promoters announced that 10,000 pumpkin pies will be given away tomorrow.

Eureka claims that more pumpkins are canned here than in any other city.

Motorists' Utopia Discovered in Enid, Okla.—They Just Dig Hole

Enid, Okla., Sept. 26.—(AP)—The motorists' dream has come true!

Just dig a hole and it fills up with high grade gasoline as fast as you can use it. And there's 2,000,000 gallons more where that comes from.

The thing started when a water well filled up with gasoline. Excited neighbors dug holes, which also filled up with gasoline.

They tried the fuel in automobile tanks. It worked fine and sales fell off sharply. The state tax commission, noting the decline, sent an inspector to investigate.

Inquiry disclosed the gasoline probably had been leaking from big storage tanks of the Champlin Refining Company.

Warns John Public Curtailment Rules Will Soon Hit Him

Many Ordinary Lines of Civilian Goods Will Soon Be Nil

Jackson's Mill, W. Va., Sept. 26.—Warning of drastic curtailment in supplies of many ordinary civilian goods—such as refrigerators, washing machines and radios—was given here today by M. Clifford Townsend, agricultural representative on defense priorities.

He said that defense officials had been "a little slow in the cutting down process, but from here on out it is going to be speeded up—and speeded up fact".

Noting that automobile production for December had been slashed in two because of defense demands, Townsend said in a prepared address that this was "just a sample" of what must happen in many other lines of civilian supplies.

"So far, the general public hasn't felt this cutting down process on a very large scale because of the supplies already on store shelves and in warehouses," he said. "When the goods already manufactured are exhausted then the public will realize what has happened. The manufacturers, who turn out their products several months in advance of actual retail sales, already know what has happened."

Miners' Rank and File Revolt Grows

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 26.—(AP)—John L. Lewis' rejection of terms for ending a strike of his United Mine Workers against increased union dues and assessments resurged today in renewed efforts to spread the rank and file revolt across Pennsylvania's anthracite fields.

Representatives of 20,000 miners who walked out more than two weeks ago in the Hazleton district ordered a large delegation of pickets into the Wilkes-Barre-Scranton area at dawn in an effort to get diggers there to join in the work stoppage. Inu groups reported 7,000 miners in the adjoining region already had lined up with the protest move and predicted the figure would reach 20,000 today.

"We started this movement for the benefit of everyone in this district," declared insurgent leader Garret Miller. "We don't want these miners idle. We want them to work. The quickest way to get them back to work is to shut them all down first."

Lusty cheers greeted his statement before 2,000 representatives of the striking miners.

Warmer, Then Cooler Weatherman Opines

Chicago, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Top-coat weather gave the Midwest the shivers today but bright sunshine compensated for the chill in most localities.

Other lows included 30 at Minot, N. D., 36 at the Springfield, Ill., airport, 38 at Moline, Ill., and Burlington, Ia., 39 at Peoria and Rockford, Ill.

The colder weather spread over the Mississippi and Ohio valleys and Great Lakes region with the forecasters predicting a warming up process in the midwest late today and tomorrow, followed by another cool spell beginning late tomorrow.

Uncle Sam's Second Army Fighting Rear Guard Action Today

Gen. Lear's Infantry Is Forced to Retreat to Shreveport, La.

By The Associated Press
The trappings of war were added to besieged Shreveport today as fierce fighting between the Second and the Third Armies converged on this northwestern Louisiana city of 100,000, situated in the center of the gigantic war games' final round.

Civilians joined in the Second Army's defense of Shreveport in mock seriousness, donning red arm bands and placing red V's for victory on automobile windshields. Machine guns and artillery were set up at approaches to the city and steel-helmeted infantrymen tramped the streets in full battle kit.

Meantime to the south, Lieut. General Ben Lear's outnumbered defending forces fought a rear guard action, delaying the slow, steady advance of Lieut. General Walter Krueger's huge Third Army. Second Army defenses were drawn in a semi-circle 50 miles south and east of Shreveport, from Center, Tex., to Arcadia, La.

100-Mile Line Bristled
The 100-mile line bristled with artillery and machine-gun nests. Anti-tank guns protected vital roadways and anti-aircraft weapons were posted at important bridgeheads to ward off bombing attacks and keep troop and supply lines open to the front.

Secrecy shrouded main troop movements on both sides but the Third Army was known to be massing huge infantry reserves about 50 miles behind the front, supposedly ready to pour through any breach in the line torn by combined armored and mechanized infantry divisions. Whereabouts of General Lear's potent armored

Reunion

Benton, Ill., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Charles K. Struble of Chicago and Harry A. Struble of Benton have 44 years of conversation to crowd into a few hours this weekend.

Through an old photograph they became convinced this week that they were brothers, separated 44 years ago after being placed in a Chicago orphanage.

The identification began when Harry Struble, in Chicago on a visit, noticed the name of Charles Struble in a telephone directory. His call to the latter's home, 4243 Lincoln avenue, resulted in the meeting that ended their long separation.

Tomorrow the Chicago brother, who operates a paint and wallpaper store, will visit his kin in Benton.

The Benton brother was reared by a family at Alton and he came here about 20 years ago. He is employed by an explosive processing company.

Alice Faye Gives Up Role as Film Star in Favor of Motherhood

Hollywood, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Alice Faye is giving up her role of screen star for a year in favor of motherhood.

She was to have had the leading role in 20th Century-Fox's $3,000,000 "My Gal Sal" and two other films of equal importance. The studio said they would be recast.

Miss Faye and Phil Harris, orchestra leader, were married May 12 in Mexico and were last Saturday in Galveston, Tex., after the bandman's divorce from Marcia Harris was made final here. The actress formerly was married to Tony Martin, singer.

"I have always felt that motherhood is infinitely more important than any career," Miss Faye said. "Now that I expect a baby, I have decided to drop my screen work."

Film Investigating Committee Dared to Leave Fate to Vote

Debate in Senate on Sen. Clark's Probe of Movies Heated

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Senator McFarland (D-Ariz.) challenged Chairman Clark (D-Idaho) today to submit to the senate the question of continuing an investigation by a senate interstate commerce subcommittee of alleged war propaganda in the movies.

In a heated exchange, McFarland served notice that he intended to ask the house committee investigating anti-American activities to look into the source of some charges laid before the senate group, charges which McFarland declared could only have the result of arousing race prejudice.

The Arizona senator said he would object to any further questioning of the type indulged in by Senator Tobey (R-NH) yesterday when Tobey aimed charges that the British Purchasing Mission here had put a ban on the employment of any person of Irish, German or Jewish descent.

McFarland said he was assured by British embassy officials that there was no truth in the statement, turning to Chairman

Guillotine Writes Communists' Finish

Paris, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The first three men sentenced to death by the powerful tribunal of state were executed today on the guillotine in the courtyard of Sante prison.

Authoritative sources said the court, a French tribunal created to show the Germans the French themselves could handle the opposition problem and to forestall the spread of German reprisals, was expected to hand down a new list of condemnations soon.

All three put to death today were communists: Adolphe Guyot, communist leader of the Seine (Paris) department, Jacques Woog and former Deputy Jean Cathelans.

The name of Gabriel Peri, another former communist deputy, was mentioned as probably among those whose cases now have been decided at further sittings of the tribunal.

A fourth man who was given the death sentence six days ago, Fresco Foscardi, has not been found. He was tried in Absentia.

All those sentenced so far have been convicted in secret sessions of fomenting or organizing disorders.

This court is separate from the anti-communist tribunal which deals with communist activities.

Continuation of Daylight Saving Time Beyond Sunday Unrecommended

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Federal Power Commission announced today it would not recommend the continuation, beyond Sept. 28, of daylight saving time in any region of the United States.

This decision was reached, Commission Chairman Leland Olds said, after a canvass of the power situation throughout the country and an analysis of the effect of summer daylight saving in the southeastern region.

The chairman emphasized that today's announcement did not preclude the possibility that a resumption of daylight saving or its establishment in other areas might be recommended if circumstances warranted.

Battalions of Nazi Army Blown to Bits by Russ Minefields

The War Today!

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Telegraph Special Service)

The most important news from the Russo-German war front is the Moscow claim that the bolsheviks have thrown back a heavy nazi attack on the strategic Crimean peninsula, inflicting severe losses on the enemy.

This assault by the nazis represents an attempt to gain control of the Black sea for an attack on the lower Caucasus in conjunction with the German drive through the Ukraine toward the northern gateway to the Caucasus. The loss of the Crimea, on which lies the chief soviet naval base of Sevastopol, would represent a major disaster for the Reds.

Beyond this, while literally millions of tired, grimy soldiers continue the bloody thousand-mile battle at close grips, the Russian theater hasn't produced a report from either side which on the face of it would greatly alter the position during the past twenty-four hours.

Maybe there has been an invisible change. Perhaps a hard-pressed line somewhere has grown brittle and will snap before long, letting all hell roll through the gap. War is like that.

We do know that the Germans have unleashed more power against the besieged city of Leningrad, but the soldiers and civilians who side by side are defending this ancient and proud metropolis still hold their ground. Likewise in the Ukraine the nazis continue to fling themselves against hard-bitten Marshal Budyenny's army in their effort to smash through into the Caucasus.

Hitler's headquarters claims that the nazis are continuing to destroy the four Red armies which the German high command announced several days ago had been surrounded east of Kiev, capital of the Ukraine. The number of prisoners is said to have swelled to the colossal total of 492,000.

However, reports from Berlin say that even the nazi press was in the doldrums through lack of news. Up until the announcement from the fuhrer's headquarters the newspapers hadn't even been able to tell a waiting public what had happened to those four armies which were being "annihilated."

By the way, the constant German use of that word "annihilated" finally drove me to appeal to an American newspaper colleague in Berlin to explain just what was meant. Annihilation to me has signified pretty much the end of all things, and it began to seem from the number of Russian troops "annihilated" in the nazi announcements that there couldn't be any bolshevik soldiers left.

The answer is that by annihilation—vernichtung—is meant complete elimination as a military force either by death or capture. That is, if an army is eliminated, there is nothing left which could be withdrawn and reorganize for further resistance. Well, it must

Four Contractors Bid on Bridge in Lee Co.

Four contractors submitted bids for a new bridge to be constructed this fall on the newly-improved county home road, spanning the Three Mile branch creek. The bids were opened at a meeting of the county road and bridge committee today for the building of the new structure, the contract including a channel change in the creek and heavy approach fills. The bid of the F. F. Wier Construction Co., of Moline was the lowest of the four submitted, which follow:

Wier Construction Co., Moline, $14,182.50; H. J. Eppel, Pontiac, $14,260.16; Brendon Bros., Fulton, $14,617.45 and the Ray Mann Construction company of Rockford, $14,940.41.

Germany Prepares to Wage Winter-Long War in Russia

(By The Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler's invasion armies are preparing for a full-scale winter campaign against Russia, it was indicated in Berlin late today, and simultaneously all citizens and stores in nazi-occupied Norway were ordered to surrender their wool blankets for use by the German army.

"It is generally recognized now that one cannot figure on the pressure of German troops on the soviet armies letting up during the winter months", the official German news agency said.

In the field, it was apparent that the Germans were meeting bitter soviet resistance along the entire 1,200-mile front from Leningrad to the Black sea.

The British radio reported that 15,000 Germans who landed on the fortified soviet islands of Oesel and Dagoe, guarding the entrance to the Gulf of Finland, had been wiped out.

The islands, it was said, were "proving impenetrable to all German attacks". Berlin had previously announced the capture of Oesel.

Troops Blown to Pieces

Whole battalions of German shock troops have been blown to pieces by minefields in a strong attack on the Crimea, advices reaching London said today, and the Russians were reported to have the situation well in hand after stemming two nazi assaults.

German parachute troops used in the attack likewise were declared to have been annihilated.

In the siege of Leningrad, the Russians admitted that German siege armies were steadily increasing their pressure despite colossal losses, but declared that a series of battles had hurled the Germans back from several advanced lines.

Red Star, the soviet army newspaper, reported that Russian troops at one point on Leningrad's approaches had gained five miles and recaptured four villages.

Nazi parachute troops and infantry were reported continuing the assault on the Crimean peninsula, battering fiercely at soviet lines stretched across the bottleneck Perekop Isthmus, only five to eight miles wide.

Terrain Favors Reds
The terrain was described as advantageous for the Russians, with numerous small lakes and marsh

Director Nelson of SPAB Urges Early Price Control Law

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Donald M. Nelson, federal director of priorities, told congress today that the administration price control bill should be enacted at once to prevent "an inflationary period that will completely destroy us."

"The executive director of the Supply Priorities and Allocations Board told the house banking committee that he knew of no other method of solving some of the problems created by the defense program.

For that reason, he said, the pending price control measure should be enacted "as rapidly as possible."

"If we are properly to handle a defense program of the size of ours and avoid an inflationary period that will completely destroy us," he said, "we must have some form of price control."

Prior to the hearing, Nelson told newsmen that he thought it was too late for adoption of the "universal price ceiling" proposed by Bernard M. Baruch, World War head of the War Industries Board.

Against Wage Control

"If we could have put such a plan into operation say about March 1, before the sharp increase started, I would have been in favor of it," Nelson said. "But I don't think the public would have stood for it then, and you have to be guided by what is practically possible."

In response to questions, Nelson said he was opposed to controlling wages by legislation because "you can't have concentration camps in this country for violators."

He said he was opposed to Secretary Morgenthau's proposal for 100 per cent taxation of corporations profits in excess of 6 per cent, explaining he thought that the profit system had to have an incentive to make it work.

As to farm prices, Nelson said he thought there should be a ceiling over them, but added he did not know just where it should be.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Nations Must Harvest True Fruits of Victory to Insure Lasting Peace

Text: Revelation 21:1-7, 10-12, 22-24

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance

Our last lesson was one of overcoming and victory, but many things remind us that while victory at a certain stage in conflict is the all-important thing, what is ultimately more important is what happens after victory. Within our own time we have seen a world war won, and the nations that won it losing the peace because they failed to reap the true fruits of victory.

In this lesson we come to the fulfillment of history in the achieving of all that victory makes worthwhile. It is a glorious picture that the saint-prophet-poet who wrote the Book of Revelation paints for us in his description of the New Jerusalem.
The picture is poetical and symbolic, but here again the realities of it are not hard to grasp. Lovers of the sea might wonder why it had no place in the ultimate blending of heaven and earth, but the sea for the ancient world represented incredible dangers. It separated countries and peoples, and without the triumphs of modern navigation it was full of peril.

It is instructive that the writer represents the Holy City, the New Jerusalem, as "coming down." In his conception there is to be earthly realization of God's triumph; it is not merely a matter of earth ascending toward heaven. The picture that he gives is in striking contrast with the earth and world as we know it. For those to whom the author of the book was writing, even with their Christian faith and fortitude, the world was a place of sorrow and trial. Yet God was to wipe away the tear from every eye; there would be no more death, no more mourning or crying.

Instructive also is the fact that the seer saw no temple or church in the Holy City. The city itself had become the Church. All of life in this New Jerusalem was holy, and all its relationships were the relationships of worship and truth.

Is this only a dream, or is it something for the attainment of which men live and work and pray? Shall we see the nations walking in the midst of the light of this Holy City and the kings of the earth bringing their glory into it?

It is a vision that has been realized in the lives of some men. There are those who have lived unselfishly in nobly in the spirit of a world made perfect. If it has not been realized for some, is not this the hope that it may be realized for others and that earth and heaven shall yet truly meet in the New Jerusalem?

If the whole of humanity were as good as some good men whom we have seen and known, the dream would be realizable. Who can say that humanity may yet be as good as those who represent humanity at its best?

present itself. Come and partake of this spiritual treat.

Saturday, October 5, the Second quarterly conference will be held in the Kingdom church at 7:45 p. m. All members are urged to be present with their written reports. Dr. P. Beuscher, district superintendent, will preside.

Sunday, October 5—"World Communion Sunday" in which we will celebrate with the other Christians of the world the "Holy Communion." Dr. Beuscher will preach the morning sermon and preside at the sacrament.
You are welcome to the "little church with the big welcome."

England's All-Out Steps in Country-side Is Described

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 26.—(AP)—An English farm economist described how women have been trained, high school boys mobilized, wages raised, draft laws amended and Italian prisoners put to work in Britain's effort to alleviate a serious farm labor shortage.

Leonard Elmhirst, president of the International Conference of Agricultural Economists, told of "total defense" steps in rural areas in a speech last night at a "soybean day" banquet at the University of Illinois. He is a resident of South Devon, England.

Boarding houses for "farm girls" have been set up throughout the nation, he said, to house women taken from non-defense industries in cities and trained as farm hands. From these houses, the girls peddle out on bicycles to work where they are needed, he said and added, "the farmers are very glad indeed to have them."

Draft regulations provide higher minimum age limits in the cases of farm laborers, so that they are not drafted so soon; compulsory minimum farm wages have been raised 25 to 33 per cent; high school boys were called into the field for summer harvest; and 3,000 Italian prisoners of war were put to work in the fields.

Committees Have Powers

In every township, comparable to an Illinois county, committees of local farm leaders have been appointed to visit and classify every farm, Elmhirst said. They are vested with authority to do whatever is necessary to bring farms up to maximum productive-ness.

Cultivation of pasture land and stoppage of supply of dairy cattle feeds from abroad have raised a dairy cattle problem so serious that the government is planning on a 50 per cent reduction in milk supply, the British farm economist revealed.

"We managed to carry our full milk supply up to last May, but this summer there was a drought; cows are drying up; our pasture land is gone; and we're reaching the end of our stored feed supply," he said.

Frank Ewing Takes Beauty Treatment and Enthuses Some

BY FRANK EWING
New York, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Memo to men: Mme. Helena Rubinstein, who has fixed feminine faces all these years, has started something for you—a fledgling beauty shop for the re-making of the masculine map.
I tried it out, fearful it would be something monstrous to endure and that my cowpunchin' pop down in Texas might read about it. (I might want to go back to the ranch some day.)
But I found it not bad, a little sticky, but not bad at all—all the attendants were pretty young misses and blonde. Their fingers are soft. They rub gently. Their voices soothe.
Madame Rubinstein said it was not effeminate to come to the shop—it was just a question of learning to be "sort of carelessly well groomed."
Over I went. The women's salon is there too, but you can sort of slip in unnoticed through a private entrance built especially for men.

Pretty Jeanne Landry observed my receding hairline and plumped me into the hair slicking room. She doused me well with scalp lotion to remove loose dandruff to benefit the scalp and hair. An oil shampoo, a hair pomade, and—swish—I was off to trust my physiognomy to Suzan Win.

Squints at Waistline

She just squinted at my waistline, ordered me on the scales, led me to the herb room and exhibited some slim wafers filled with vitamins and minerals, but low in calories, and beguiled me with their dietary possibilities.

Then came more blondes with more bottles. One rubbed my rusty knuckles with hand lotions. Another patted my jaws.

From a welter of soaps and lotions came Madame's pride—the sports liquid—to remove peel and shine garnered while skiing, swimming, et al.

Then they peered at my pores through a skin analyzer of great magnifying ability, and the pores became volcanoes. Emulsion for men was prescribed.

It's all chemical, nothing mechanical. For a haircut, a shave, a manicure, a steam, or an exercise are not to be had.

I looked pretty slick when I emerged. But I still need a haircut. I still have to go see Louie, He's my barber.

New London, Conn. is Scene of Costly Fire

New London, Conn., Sept. 26.—(AP)—One of the worst fires in New London's history Thursday left New Haven Railroad steamship pier and freight terminal, situated where the marine tempo has been greatly accelerated since the beginning of the defense program, reduced to half-submerged wreckage.

The loss here, the home of the submarine base, was estimated unofficially at $200,000 and the cause was listed as undetermined, although Chief Thomas H. Shipman attributed it to probable "carelessness."

Average daily sales of fluid milk in July totaled 7,154,411 quarts as compared with 6,753,664 quarts the same month in 1940.

Oct. 5 World-Wide Communion Sunday

All Churches in Dixon Will Observe Special Evangelistic Day

BY R. W. FORD, (Secretary, Dixon Ministerial Ass'n.)

Sunday, October 5 has been designated by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America as World-Wide Communion Sunday. This interdenominational and world-encircling observance, which is sponsored by the Department of Evangelism of the Council, began last year.

The following paragraph is taken from the Council Announcement: "It is both timely and appropriate that on this coming October 5, there should be a world-wide observance of the Holy Communion. In this time of conflict when hate is organized and on the march, Christians everywhere need to do everything possible to maintain an unbroken fellowship. A coming together about the Lord's table on the same day will be an expression of unity which all Christians have in Christ and a witness to their unbroken fellowship."

Significant values are to be found in such an observance. It will aid each local church to rally the church membership and reform the lines. It will also provide the most appropriate place for a new dedication of self to the service of Jesus Christ. Still further, with the centrifugal forces of hate and selfishness driving the nations and peoples of the world apart, this observance will be the centripetal force of faith and love which will draw the churches and the Christians closer together, thus helping to strengthen the ecumenical fellowship of Christians everywhere.

One of the major objectives of World Communion Sunday is to secure the presence of every member of the congregation at the Lord's table during the day. Many of the Dixon churches are planning special Communion services for this day. Others, while their church calendar does not permit a change of dates, are co-operating in the objective of the observance. May every member of every church in Dixon be present in the worship service of his church on World-Wide Communion Sunday, Oct. 5.

A Thought For Today
There is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known.—Luke 12:2.
Truth has never been, can never be, contained in any one creed or system.—Mary A. Ward.

From the Depths, Brotherhood Is Rising
On Sept. 1, 1939, Adolf Hitler unleashed tremendous forces in the world.
His own forces he knew—the terror of fire and sword. The other forces he knew not—the spirit of brotherhood which is being born in the ashes of adversity in a dozen countries, among a score of peoples; the spirit which may change the world as no destructive fury of the nazis can ever change it. Aggression and oppression have never failed to unite their victims in bonds of strength which eventually grew into mighty power overwhelming the persecutor.
China was disunited, a formless mass of opposing factions. Then came the Japanese invasion, and today—China united, her diverse peoples fused into a brotherhood of suffering whose strength is only beginning to be seen.
Britain was disunited, a people torn by class distinctions and diverse views. The nazi bombers came, and today—a tight little island fortress whose people are one in the brotherhood of their great effort, a spirit power yet to be reckoned with.
Thus with the Jewish captivity in Egypt and Babylon—captives and slaves, the Jews became brothers in their persecution. Today they live and thrive—where are Babylon and Egypt?
Thus with the persecuted Christians of Rome. St. Paul was in prison, but he converted his guards. The Christians were a persecuted minority in Rome. Yet Christianity covers the globe today, and where are the Romans?

Assistant Secretary of State Berle brought these examples down to modern times in a recent conference on science, philosophy and religion at Columbia university. In most of Europe today, he noted, the nazis compel the Jews to wear the yellow Star of David. They intend it as a badge of dishonor. But it is signal of brotherhood; and outward sign to distinguish brothers, symbol of an inward and unconquerable strength. Polish Catholics are also compelled to wear a distinguishing badge. Shall they not greet one another as brothers, just as the early Christians did in Rome?
The greater the persecution, the stronger the brotherhood that rises from it. It is this spirit, rising from this horrible but inescapable way of driving in upon men their essential brotherhood,

● SERIAL STORY

BRIDE FROM THE SKY

BY HELEN WELSHIMER

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Judy Allen has been kidnapped on her wedding day by a mysterious, dashing aviator. She thought she loved him until newspaper stories linking him romantically with actress Peg Gordon angered her into the conviction that she really cared for attorney Philip Rogers. Life with Philip, she decides, is what she wants—that, with all its charm and security, and a continuance of her career as an associate magazine editor. "I hate you," she tells Sandy, pleading with him to land his plane and return her to her wedding. He flies on, confident that she really cares for him. Carefully she feels in the seat of the plane for a parachute Sandy has invented.

ESCAPE FROM THE SKY

CAREFULLY Judy pulled the folded packet from under her. She looked at the night and wondered where she could search for a landing place.
Sandy had taken on more ceiling. He knew his way through the sky. Well, she would find her way to earth. A straight line was the shortest distance between two points.
Sandy was master of his ship. He did not mind the darkness.
"We've outflown the storm," he said. "Both storms, my love!" Bells rang in his voice.
Judy did not trouble about his words. Something about his tone caught her heart. Once more, just once more, she would try to win him with her voice.
"Sandy?" she said. If he cared for her at all—if he preferred her peace and happiness to the circus in the air—if he were willing to surrender future drums and fanfare, he would find a radio beam and follow it in to anywhere.
"Enjoying the ride?" His cheerful answer came.
"NO!"
"Because I love you and you love me we're going to find a minister." Sandy was trying to be gay than he felt. Judy knew that now as she watched for beacon lights.
Suddenly he asked a question, a question that was half-debarrain, half-frightened.
"Do you love that guy?"
"What guy?"
"Rogers."
"I only marry people I love." Sandy had turned his head to watch her so she let the well-wrapped parachute slide to the floor. Anyway, she knew how to adjust the parachute, for Sandy had taught her all about it.

"The ship floated smoothly on its star-flecked sea now that the shimmer of rain was over. Once Sandy started to go into a tail-spin. He caught himself in the action and changed into a monotonous course.
No need to worry about air pockets, Judy remembered. You only struck them when there was light. Without the sun the air was dark and free.
Anyway, this was an absurd nightmare—riding down the sky in her grandmother's wedding dress, with a determined young pilot who thought he had stolen a bride for himself.
"COME place, far below, musicians wove an aisle of music down which six bridesmaids were waiting to come. Their eyes must be fearful under the cartwheel hats, and the slim sapphire bracelets which she had given them for gifts must be shining wonderingly.
And her mother—Judy pictured her embarrassment. Back of it there would be fear, too.
There couldn't be a wedding, though, for the bride was gone. The bride wouldn't be back for a long time. Phil—how had she ever doubted that it was Phil she wanted to marry? She could see his lean profile out there some place in the sky, could hear him trying to send a message of comfort.
Surely the police had been notified by now and streamlined white cars with magnified voices were telling of the disappearance of a bride in a froth of tulle and foam and white embroidered slippers. The bride's attire would make first page, this time, instead of the social lead.
She giggled gently as the cord that tied the packet which held the parachute opened. Intent on his course, Sandy had deserted her for the moment. Even the mirror had been changed.
She looked down.

Water—miles of it. Sandy was measuring the distance until he would be above it. He was starting for Canada where nothing could stop him until it was far too late to resurrect tonight's wedding. Oh, why did Sandy run through her life like a Fifth Column, ferreting out things that were none of his business?
IN the distance she saw the lights of an airport. Sandy would have to pass it before he swung out across the lake.
Swiftly she adjusted the parachute over her wedding dress. It took a few minutes for her to fit it into place.
She began to talk as she worked so Sandy would have no suspicion. "Peg won't like to be the holder of the torch for you. Maybe she'll refuse to take you back and that would be too bad." A cynical thread was woven through her husky tones.
"I planned this little stunt without her advice..."
Sandy's rough, bright head turned just as Judy opened the cabin door.
"Sorry, darling, I got out here. Thanks for the nice evening." She blew him a kiss and stepped on to the wing. It seemed to her for a second that there was nothing in the world but eternity sweeping by and a pair of gray eyes, frightened, loving, yet admiring. She had heard that a good jumper always falls on his back, head first. She did.
She was falling down... down... down. She was caught in a prairie of winds. She reached for the rip cord. Suppose she couldn't pull it?
Suppose—Suddenly the plunge was broken. A great sustaining tide steadied her. The white silk balloon had opened. Far up in the sky she was safe.
Gently she was floating earthward. Now and then she felt a strange wind that turned her to the left or to the right.
She looked up. The hum of Sandy's motor was fainter. She knew that he was not running away. He had gone higher to give her more room.
Then a new roar of motors sounded very close. In a second she had sensed the trouble. A new ship was about to take off and she was in its path!

New Photograph Transmitter Is Announced by AP

Portable Equipment Will Give Greater Fidelity And Detail

New York, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A new and improved portable transmitter for sending photographs by wire was announced today by the Associated Press.
The transmitter uses a new type of photo cell which not only reduces bulk of the machine but gives greater fidelity and detail of reproduction. The cell is a little lamp using three and three-quarter watts, against 20 watts required previously.
This cell was developed during two years of experiments in the Associated Press laboratory, New York City. It is regarded on its test performances as the runner-up in a great simplification of sending pictures by wire.
One test model has been completed. Production will be started as soon as possible.
Only about half as large and heavy as the previous wirephoto portable, the new machine sends a picture 9 by 7 inches, instead of 4 by 5, the old dimensions. The added size and detail mean that the pictures need less retouching.
This transmitter operates either on a battery or on any alternating light current.
In the new machine the photographs can be mounted on the sending cylinder much more rapidly than with the old transmitter. Since the portables send pictures through ordinary toll calls, the speed means the saving of a good many dollars.
When a photograph is to be sent, the suitcase in which the transmitter is housed, is attached by a coil to any available telephone box. It then is plugged in, like a radio, to a convenient electric light outlet. This latter connection operates tubes and electrical equipment.
After the tubes are warmed up, the photo to be sent, automatically wrapped upon a revolving cylinder in the suitcase, is ready. A phone call is put through to the person or office wanting the picture. Over this call the picture travels, in electrical impulses, to the receiving number, where a similar apparatus puts it back on photographic film.
Wirephoto's first portable was used in flooded Pittsburgh in 1936. There are now 35 of them in the United States, Canada and Mexico. They supplement the 20,000 miles of leased wires which the Associated Press uses to serve 128 newspapers with wirephoto.
This network, the only one of its kind, has developed in about six years from 10,000 miles and 50 member newspapers. The network has advantages over ordinary toll circuits.
Portable transmitters this week made it possible to carry quick pictures of the Texas coast hurricane and the bombing tests at Barksdale Field, La.

Hugh S. Johnson Writes From Capital During Mallon's Illness

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26.—The country is going to be sold a gold brick thinly coated with banana oil, if congress passes a price control bill that attempts to put no kind of ceiling over wages and rents and restricts ceilings over farm prices to 110 0.0 of "parity".
Indeed it is going to be sold a gold brick if the bill doesn't put a ceiling over all prices.
Wages and food are the principal elements of the cost of all things. Rising prices follow rising costs as night follows day. It should be apparent to a high-school sophomore that you cannot stop price advances, especially in the cost of living if you do not control the rise in the elements of cost.

The country understands the reasons for it and demands legislative action to prevent runaway prices. The opposition to stopping runaways in all prices centers on an assertion that it "is too difficult to administer". Yet the advocates of the bill want power to administer piecemeal practically all prices except rents, wages, and food. They want to do that separately in each field if, and only if, they decide to do it.
There will be many more cases to administer, and it will affect 130,000,000 people just as directly on the piecemeal plan as on the over-all ceiling plan, and as to difficulty of administration, the two cases simply do not compare. On the over-all method you establish one general rule for all prices—the level as of a certain date everywhere. Both buyers and sellers know what that was. There can't be much dispute about facts. Then you have to deal only with the exception, where changed conditions or changed policies have created a special necessity to change a particular price upward or downward.

But, under piecemeal price fixing each price group severely you have to deal with millions of separate cases. While you are dealing with each regulated group, the unregulated groups continue their advance and all are elements of cost (and price) of the regulated groups. It is a ridiculous impossibility. You must adjust again, continuously upward. It is like a great lion opposing a swarm of locusts. He roars at them, catches a few in his mouth, bats down a few with his paw, but ten times as many stick in his mane and a million times as many soar over his helpless head. It is like trying to poke smoke down a rat-hole with a broomstick, or to pick fleas off a dog with boxing gloves on.

Farm parity is not an inflexible price. It goes up in direct ratio with prices the farmer has to pay. The principle of tying wage increases to increases in the cost of living is exactly the same sort of thing. If farmers and workers are assured of this they have no right to insist on more—certainly not to an absolute freedom to them alone to increase prices. The case will simply not bear argument and that for overall price control is devastating.
Devastating, yes all but for one thing. The mid-term congressional elections are approaching. Mr. Henderson as a very unconvincing advocate of piecemeal price-fixing has intimidated in his testimony that he is taking orders from higher-up. Some members of the house banking and currency committee have made it equally clear in their hearings that their judgments are swayed by similar considerations.

This weak-kneed complacency may go down in history as the "crime of 1941". If inflation, meaning unconsciously high costs of living, is not controlled now, which is just about the last chance, no future generations are going to arise to call these gentlemen blessed.
We are told continuously on the one hand that this isn't a political war. News dispatches must convince us, on the other, that it is exactly what it is. It is a hell of a note.

Parents Urged to Immunize Children by Health Officer
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 26.—(AP)—State Health Director Roland R. Cross appealed to parents today to immunize their children against smallpox and diphtheria, pointing out that the two diseases made an unusual gain last year.
Immunization is particularly important in areas where national defense workers have greatly increased the population and children are exposed to new contacts. Cross said.
In 1940, a total of 167 cases of smallpox was reported in Illinois, while not a single case was reported in New York or the New England states. The seven states reported a total of 810 cases of diphtheria, compared with 942 cases in Illinois alone.
The total number of infantile paralysis cases reported this year to the state health department stood today at 244—one more than the total reported at this time last year.
Cross said 11 new cases were reported yesterday—six in Chicago and one each in Edgar, Fulton, Kane, Moultrie and Winnebago counties.

Bridge Lamps Held Furniture; Hampers for Colthes Are Not

Regulation of Buying on Installments Gives Officials Problems

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A bridge lamp is furniture but a clothes hamper is not.
This isn't double talk; it is just some of the 24-hour a day advice that's pouring out of the Federal Reserve Board in interpreting the installment credit regulations which began the first of this month.
While doubting that confusion over the restrictions were any more than could be expected, one sleepy-eyed official said there were still a lot of questions to be answered after he and his staff worked nights for four weeks.
The rules set minimum down payments up to one-third of an article's cost and fixed a maximum time of 18 months for paying the balance on 24 different types of merchandise.
Furniture seems to be one of the favorite question marks. The board started out by excluding floor coverings and draperies from the definition of "furniture".
Since then the experts have ruled, on separate occasions, that lamps, mirrors, unpainted furniture, stools, kitchen and breakfast room sets, porch tables, chairs, swings, and kitchen cabinets are "furniture".
But chinaware, cooking utensils, ordinary, electric fans, wall clocks, and non-electric carpet sweepers are now furniture.
Combinations Are Problem
Then, there's the problem of one of these new-fangled gadgets that is part radio and part bed or other furniture. The required down payment on radios is 20 per cent, but only 10 per cent on furniture. The board solved it's one saying which ever part of the gadget cost most determined the classification. Thus a $100 bed with a built-in $15 radio is still a bed.
The procedure is still too new, officials said, for all the kinks to be straightened out.
But for the customer, it's simple. All he has to do is go to his favorite store and buy on whatever terms the store is willing to offer. In most cases, officials said, these terms are no different than they have been. Cash or single-payment charge account transactions are not regulated at all. The rules cover only installment sales.

Tougher for Store
The nut is a little tougher for the store to crack. But store-owners are supposed to be getting a regular diet of advice from local commercial organizations and the federal reserve banks.
Except in the case of furniture, the restricted items are pretty well identified. Such things as automobiles, vacuum cleaners, refrigerators and pianos are mentioned by name. In each case, a minimum down payment is given. At present, the time limit on payments is 18 months for all these items.
Another question has arisen concerning articles placed in customers' homes for, say, 90 days trial. Does the 18 month payment limit start at once or after the trial? The answer is that, as long as the customer pays nothing or promises nothing and has the right to return the goods, the trial time don't count.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 26.—(AP)—The state division of correction announced today that 445 convicts in Illinois prisons are scheduled for parole hearings on the October docket. Subcommittees of the parole board will hold public hearings at the state prisons beginning Sept. 29.

Parents Urged to Immunize Children by Health Officer
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 26.—(AP)—State Health Director Roland R. Cross appealed to parents today to immunize their children against smallpox and diphtheria, pointing out that the two diseases made an unusual gain last year.
Immunization is particularly important in areas where national defense workers have greatly increased the population and children are exposed to new contacts. Cross said.
In 1940, a total of 167 cases of smallpox was reported in Illinois, while not a single case was reported in New York or the New England states. The seven states reported a total of 810 cases of diphtheria, compared with 942 cases in Illinois alone.
The total number of infantile paralysis cases reported this year to the state health department stood today at 244—one more than the total reported at this time last year.
Cross said 11 new cases were reported yesterday—six in Chicago and one each in Edgar, Fulton, Kane, Moultrie and Winnebago counties.

ROCK RIVER LOOP OPENS '41 DRIVE WITH 3 CONTESTS

Rock Falls Defending Champs Play Amboy This Afternoon

GAMES TONIGHT
DePue at Mendota
Community at Sterling
Kewanee at Princeton
Polo at Rochelle
Rock Falls at Amboy
Belvidere at East Rockford
Downers Grove at DeKalb
Morrison at Lyons, Ia.
Mt. Morris at Oregon

There's a blackout at the Dixon athletic field tonight—but foot-ball bombs will be bursting everywhere else and some of them may throw light on the future of Coach C. B. Lindell and his Dukes. Dixon's next opponent—the DeKalb Barbs—will battle Downers Grove while the Dixon coaching staff looks on makes a few mental notes and prepares for next Friday night.

Meanwhile, the Rock River conference opens its season tonight with three games. Rock Falls, undefeated in two games this season against non-conference foes (Pekin and Sterling) opens its defense of the title in an afternoon game at Amboy. A much-improved Irish squad may not be too hopeful against the Rockets, but there is certain to be some rough treatment before a decision is reached.

Polo at Rochelle
At Rochelle tonight the Hubs—who lost to DeKalb in the opener—will tangle with Polo. Polo came out of a Mt. Carroll contest last week in a 6 to 6 deadlock against a gigantic foe and has high hopes to climbing the conference ladder this year with Rochelle as the first step upward.

At Oregon the Hawks of Coach Driver who defeated Dixon and Stockton to open the season, will be sinking their claws into the Mt. Morris Mounders who last week suffered a 13 to 0 defeat at the hands of Savanna.

In other games around the neighborhood tonight Sterling (defeated by Rock Falls last week) takes on another intracity foe, Community High. Princeton's Tigers which have rolled over Walnut and DePue by big margins have hopes tonight of adding Kewanee to their string of victims.

At East Rockford
East Rockford which had the breaks here last week and nipped the Dukes 12 to 9, meets Belvidere tonight on the home gridiron. The Boone county warriors, former North Central conference members, lost their opener to Geneva, 7 to 0, and dropped the second game to Harlem of Rockford, 7 to 6.

Morrison, a Rock River conference team, invades another state tonight in a game at Lyons, Ia.

BROOKLYN DODGERS ARE KINGS OF NATIONAL LEAGUE BASEBALL

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Brooklyn Dodgers, long the clown princes of baseball, are the new kings of the National League. Long live the kings!
The kids from Kings county, New York (the same as the borough of Brooklyn to everybody except the district attorney) came through in royal glory at Boston with a 6-0 conquest of the Braves yesterday and clinched their first pennant in 21 years.

The St. Louis Cardinals co-operated by losing a 3-1 decision at Pittsburgh to bring the most strenuous championship struggle in recent years to a sudden stop.
As a result of the victory and defeat, the Redbirds were left 2½ games behind the Dodgers with each club having two games left to play.

The standings today:

Team	W	L	Pct.	Behind
Brooklyn	99	53	.651	2
St. Louis	95	55	.636	2½

Somewhat the session at Boston, perfectly played on the part of the Dodgers, seemed like an anti-climax. The Bums had had to battle for every inch in their furious, often frantic, foray against the western clubs of the league and even against the lowly Phillies.

In Boston yesterday they knew they were in and were just marking time. But they certainly can keep time. They never missed a beat.

Masterful Pitching
Whitlow Wyatt, their friendly, baldish pitching ace, produced a masterful five-hit performance to achieve his seventh shutout and a 22nd victory of the season. His teammates loosed a vigorous offensive which young Pete Reiser climaxed with a two-run seventh inning homer.

The game had been nailed down, however, when Brooklyn bagged one run in each of the first three innings.

Max Baer, a big West Virginia mountaineer who once was with the Dodgers, took care of crimping the Cardinals. He held the Red Birds to five hits, their only run was forced in with a walk. The Pirates plastered Rookie Bill Cox' triple for a run in the third and Elbie Fletcher's homer with one on in the sixth.

Both clubs have open dates today—time for the Dodgers to celebrate and for the Cardinals to lick their wounds. Tomorrow and Sunday the Cards clash again with the Chicago Cubs and the Dodgers finish against the Phils.

To Rest for Series
All along the Brooks have had a hankering to win 100 games, but they acknowledged on their return home last night that they didn't care much about that goal now. Lefty Larry French was scheduled to start tomorrow's contest. As many of the Brooklyn regulars as possible will be rested for the opening of the World Series with the New York Yankees next Wednesday.

In the other games yesterday the Cincinnati Reds stormed to a 6-0 decision over the Cubs and the New York Giants squeezed to a 3-2 victory over the Phillies.

Cincinnati's win came on the two-hit hurling of Rookie Ray Starr. The Giants' triumph resulted from Billy Jurges' two-run triple in the seventh and Johnny McCarthy's single with the bases loaded in the ninth. For six innings the New Yorkers were held hitless by John Podgajny.

All clubs in the American League were idle.

Elephants will range themselves alongside a wounded corn and assist it to a place of safety.

Ray Starr, Reds—Shut out Cubs on 2-0 hit.

Bill Jurges, Giants—Triples with two on to pave way for victory over Phils.

Bubrick Sets New High Series For Chauffeurs' Loop

J. Bubrick of the Old American quintet set a new high series for the Chauffeurs and Helpers Union league at the Dixon Recreation last night when he counted game of 215-166-170 for 559.

It was a large evening for the nightshift league as three of the quintets swept the series. The Knacks outfit set a new high team game with 985 and a new high team series with 2849 and only Koepke's 224 game remained of last week's records.

The Knacks won three games from the Old American. Leading the winners was Lawson with a 510 series while Bubrick's 559 was tops for the losers.

First Night Records Are Smashed By the Pin-men Last Eve

With the frost settling on the pumpkins, the bowling season is getting into mid-season stride and you have to work hard to get warm these nights. The Commercial league pinmen turned on the steam last night at the Dixon Recreation and wound up with three teams in a tie for first place.

Bigger news, perhaps, is that all the first-night records set last week were erased and new targets established. For instance, Reynolds Wire set a high team game with 990 and the Round Up counted 2854 for high team series.

Rube Winebrenner rolled a 225 game to erase Friday Shultz' former high of 221 and Carl Becker counted 557 to break Shultz' 532 for high series.

Only team to win three games was the Round-Up which now shares the lead with Budweiser Gardens and National Tea. The Rounders swept the series from Coca Cola as Moerschbaecher rolled a 519 series for the winners and Weidman's 457 was tops for the losers.

Reynolds Wire won two games from Cahill's Electrics. Leading the winners was Becker with his 557 series and Biggart topped the losers with 483.

National Tea won two games from Dixon Telegraph. Carlson's 538 count was tops for the winners and Friday Shultz rolled an even 500 for the newsmen.

Budweiser Gardens won two games from Sparky's Fenders with Hahn counting 514 for the Gardens and Venier rolling 487 for the Fenders.

High games last night included those of: Bubrick 201; R. Winebrenner 225.

Earville Hands Paw Paw Team Its First Defeat, 9-2

They were overpowered, 9 to 2 by the Earville clouters. It was the Flancher-men's first defeat in five games.

Harger did the pitching for the winners and allowed only seven hits while Marks of Paw Paw was rapped for 12 bingos.

Heavy hitters for the Earville squad were Ramel, Harger, Welch and C. Muller each of whom got two hits. Pyreman who is batting .615 for the Paw Paw team also got two hits.

School Safety Patrol

The local school safety patrol has once again taken up its job of reminding us to observe the safety rules as car drivers and pedestrians. The members of this patrol are elected by the pupils and teachers in the local Junior high school. This year's patrol gives all indications of being one of the best organizations of its kind in this section of the state.

Members of the state highway police have been generous in their praise of the work done by the local patrol. Dennis Tracy, chairman of the law enforcement committee of the village board of trustees has expressed himself as appreciative of the safety record of the village due in no small measure to the fine work of the Patrol in the past. He is making plans to formally induct the patrol members at the next meeting of the village board of trustees.

Police Chief Harold Palmer has always been interested in the work of the Patrol and the members look upon him as a real friend.

The members of this year's patrol are as follows: Eighth grade: Bethel Avey, Bill Messer, Ted Incontro, Frank James, Barbara Marchant, Marilyn Davidson, Dick Knodde, Wayne Silvius, Betty Manus, Dick Morrison, David Wright and Dorothy Niklaus; seventh grade: Spencer Avey, Jack Leonard, Marjorie Lee Garrison, Donna Lizer, Charles Ford and Darrel Waddelou.

The members of the patrol met and elected the following officers: Captain—Dick Knodde.
Lieutenants—Marilyn Davidson and Betty Manus.

John Yeakel, eighth grade home room teacher, is acting as sponsor of the Patrol this year.

The law enforcement committee of the village and the police department are cooperating in sponsoring a benefit dance for the local School Safety Patrol. The date for this dance has been set for October 4 at the Town Hall.

Proceeds from this dance will be used to furnish additional raincoats for the patrol as well as to offer to the members some tangible evidence that the community appreciates what they are doing. Plans are being made to take the entire Patrol to see a football game at Northwestern University this fall as guests of the university. This is made possible through the fine cooperation of many of the citizens of this community.

The youngsters certainly appreciate this expression of appreciation, which makes their job more pleasant as they stand at their posts day after day in spite of rain, snow or other bad weather. Police Chief Harold Palmer and Dennis Tracy, chairman of the law enforcement committee are in charge of all arrangements for this dance and would be glad to see a swell turnout for this benefit dance. Tickets may be secured from either policeman or from Mr. Tracy.

Nursery School News

Written by Miss Mabel Entorf, Head Teacher

Our nursery school has a vacant chair. Our good friend and gardener, Earl White, passed away at his home Saturday evening. We will all miss him. Mr. White was one grand man, so dependable and he loved the children and they loved him. On Monday morning the children were playing and the bolt on the wagon came out and Jimmy said "The wagon is broken and Mr. White can fix it." I said Mr. White won't be here any more. He said "Why?" and I said, "He has gone to heaven," and little Ann said, "Did he go up the winding stairs to Heaven? When he calls me, I will go too, because I liked Mr. White." His memory will long be with us. We extend our sympathy to Mrs. White and Clare. Our nursery was closed Monday afternoon during the funeral services.

Little Gene Daniels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Daniels, enrolled at the nursery. He was quite shy for a few days, but Monday he had a good time playing.

Sunday evening Billy and Judith Lafferty of Dixon called on me and Judith said she had a big box of tin foil and said she always saves it for the nursery. Thank you, Judith.

Last week A. A. Rea and Mrs. Edith Smith of Rockford and Mrs. Foss of Chicago visited our school.

Monday, I received a package of tin foil from Chicago—but I don't know who sent it as there wasn't any name on the package. If the sender reads our nursery news I thank you.

Mrs. William Welty of Waterloo is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bachofen.

Mrs. John Murray and son Raymond left Friday for their home in Walton.

New Bridge Over I. C. at Oglesby Authorized

Chicago, Sept. 26—(AP)—The Illinois Commerce Commission approved today the application of the city of Oglesby for authority to construct a new bridge over the Illinois Central railroad tracks at the Walnut street crossing in Oglesby.

The concrete and steel bridge costing about $40,000 will be 21 feet wide, replacing an 18-foot wooden structure. Most of the cost will be borne by the city.

Construction will begin next spring and the order provided that a detour necessary during construction should not extend for more than five months. Customary cross-arm warning signs will be installed for the detour grade crossing and the railroad agreed to reduce the speed of trains at the crossing to 15 miles an hour.

Citizens' Re-employment Councils To Be Set Up Throughout the State

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 26—(AP)—Citizens' re-employment committees similar to those established in Macon and McLean counties will be appointed for other areas of the state, Russell L. Peters, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid Commission, reported today.

The citizens' committees in Macon and McLean were appointed as an experiment to see if community effort could reduce relief rolls, Peters reported to Governor Green.

Relief rolls are being studied to determine the abilities and experience of those unemployed with a view toward recommending re-employment or additional training in certain trades, Peters said.

Nervous Music Student Takes Own Life; Poison

Chicago, Sept. 26—(AP)—The body of Miss Edna May Hilliard, 22, was found in the bedroom of a relative's home last night. Detective James Droney said a glass which had contained poison was found nearby.

The detective said a note, addressed to the young woman's parents in Marion, Ill., told of a nervousness which made it impossible to continue her musical studies here.

Miss Hilliard, the officer added, had been living with her cousin, Mrs. Jean Mitchell, and had worked as a waitress in addition to her studies.

Ordnance Plant at Kankakee, Biggest in U. S., Producing

TNT Line Put Into Operation; Output to Be Increased

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 26—(AP)—Manufacture of TNT and other military explosives started today at the $51,000,000 Kankakee ordnance works, which the army described as "probably the largest plant of its kind in the world."

Lieut. Col. T. C. Gerber, commanding officer of the 22,000-acre plant south of Joliet, announced that one TNT production line is operating.

It is the first TNT plant built in the defense emergency to go into production. Construction started ten months ago.

Additional TNT lines and a tetryl manufacturing group are being completed, Gerber said, and a lead azide manufacturing unit will be started later.

Explosives manufactured at the Kankakee works will be shipped to shell and bomb loading plants. Part of the TNT will be sent across highway 66-A to the Elwood ordnance plant, which started loading shells July 12.

Operated by the DuPont Company, the Kankakee works will employ 3,160 men when peak production is reached. Crews of skilled "key men" are operating the first TNT line while others are being trained.

All Precautions Taken

The Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation of Boston, which built the Kankakee plant where 146 farmers worked their fields last year, announced that 2,000 factories and 100 sub-contractors contributed materials and equipment in the job, where 8,000 construction workers are still employed.

In the immense chemical factory, the army will produce TNT and DNT, the demolition explosives; tetryl, which detonates them in shells and bombs, and lead azide, a highly sensitive chemical that sets off the tetryl.

Included on the vast grounds is a factory to make boxes for shipment and storage of the finished products.

Sulphuric acid, anhydrous ammonia and toluene, raw materials of TNT, are received in liquid form in railroad tank cars and stored in 250,000 gallon tanks on the reservation.

Gerber said the army doesn't expect accidents, because of TNT's innate stability, but that every possible safety precaution had been taken for the workmen.

Two Auto Fatalities At Joliet This Morn

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 26—(AP)—Dr. Joseph C. Kimball, 56, Joliet physician, was killed early today in an automobile collision on route 66 near the junction with route 6.

Peter Van Dyne and George Barger, both of Wilmington, occupants of the car which collided with Dr. Kimball's, were brought to St. Joseph's hospital, Joliet, for treatment of cuts and bruises.

Earlier, Albino Paganoni, 50, was killed by an automobile while crossing a street in downtown Joliet. Earheart Ziesner, 34, of Manhattan, was driving the car.

Thousands of Scouts From Blackhawk Area to Belvidere Circus

Belvidere, Sept. 26—The stage is set, the plans made, and everything is in readiness for the biggest assemblage of Boy Scouts in northern Illinois here in Belvidere tomorrow night when Boone-McHenry Boy Scout district will be host to thousands of lads of the Blackhawk Area Council. It'll be the second annual Boy Scout circus.

Ray Helsdon, Belvidere chairman of the event, announces that 1,200 additional tickets have been printed in addition to the 7,500 originally ordered. Sale of tickets is brisk, and a sellout crowd is expected.

There will be a street parade at 7:30 o'clock as a prelude to the big show. Instead of a three-ring circus, plans call for 40 squares, in each of which Boy Scout troops from the districts of Boone-McHenry, Ogle-Lee, Winnebago, and Whiteside are to perform.

The theme of the performance is "The anchor of democracy."

Machine to Pick Clover Tops Made by U. I. Teachers

Chicago, Sept. 26 — (AP) — A machine which picks clover tops as fast as 2400 hand pickers has been developed by two Illinois professors.

Red clover blossoms are gathered and dried for medicinal use, chiefly in preparations against colds, and American drug firms use about 20 tons a year, importing all.

The inventors, Prof. E. N. Gathercoal and Prof. P. D. Carpenter of the University of Illinois College of Pharmacy, believe their machine will lead to the development of special apparatus for harvesting more than 200 other medicinal plants, many of which grow wild in the United States.

The clover picker is a tractor-drawn rotary rake which whirls at 300 revolutions a minute over the clover field, catching the blossoms in its teeth and tossing them into a hopper. It can advance through a field at four miles an hour, harvesting a six foot swath. It gathered four tons of blossoms daily, equal to 1600 pounds of the dried drug. Nine hand pickers working in the same field gathered only six pounds of dried tops daily. The machine does not damage the clover for subsequent cutting as hay.

Longer Work Week Henderson's Idea

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson yesterday advocated a longer work week in certain selected industries, chiefly those working on defense orders, to attain what he said was a badly needed increase in the production level.

Testifying before the house banking committee on the administration's price control bill, Henderson said that even now the average work week for all manufacturing industries in this country was 40 3/10 hours.

Explaining he was talking about three shift capacity, Henderson said one of the reasons for the lag was lack of trained men for the extra shifts.

"It has always seemed to me," he went on, "that one of the rearrangements that could be made would be longer hours in certain selected industries."

Wants Aid of Papers

Henderson also said that he wished newspapers generally would "interest themselves in what are fair prices," during discussion of a suggestion by Rep. Dewey (R-Ill) that the government issue a quarterly "fair price catalog" to guide the buying public.

Dewey said that the country's two leading mail order houses issue about 107,000,000 price publications annually and expressed belief that if the public had some similar list of prices from the government, it would do much to its own "policing" the price situation.

Rep. Ford (D-Calif) asserting that prices are going to be the country's biggest news during the emergency, asked whether newspapers couldn't render much the same service that Dewey suggested.
